

ALEXANDRIA.

SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 15.

THE Valley Virginian says:

"One thing is as certain as anything in the future can be, and that is that our theireman' [Mahone] will never again be empowered to represent Virginia in the small degree to cool his partisan activity, cans or democrats have a majority in the next Legislature. No candidate will dare to make his canvass in behalf of 'our chair man' as the next cenator and this for chair man' as the next senator, and this fect ought to satisfy any reasonable man that it is suicidal for his friends to make support of him the test of political orthodoxy, and insinuate infidelity to party duty against any one who is not willing to worship at his feet and ac cept him, with all his glaring faults, as the sole embodiment of the republicanism of Virginia."

If the Virginian be sincere in this expression of its opinion, and we have no reason to doubt that it is, it should by all means advocate the election of the democratic candidates for the legislature, for if the re publicans secure a majority in that body, nothing, that has not already happened, is surer than the fact that General Mahone will be the next U.S. Senator from Virgin ia. His friends will have a majority of the republican majority, and his "methods" will soon bring the minority to terms.

EX CONGRESSMAN J. R. Tucker says there should be a national anti-polygamy law. and that under that law Utah should be ad mitted as a State into the Union. Congress has no more right to pass an anti polygamy than an anti liquor law. And the more interference the nation has with the States, the worse for both. If Utah have the required qualifications for Statehood, it should be admitted as all other States have been. Modern civilization is against polygamy, and to the natural operation of that civilization, and not to infringements upon the spirit of the and not to infringements upon the spirit of the suitable route of the proposed avenue, so Constitution, should be left is eradication in that in every cesential particular the way

Now that his election depends in great degree upon the support of the regroes of his State, he attempts to deny his former evidences of antipathy for them, but those evidences are of too recent date to be forgotten. But for all this, in New York, as in Virginia, the republican ticket will receive the solid negro vote.

Mount Vernon Avenue.

The project of constructing a broad, smooth highway to Mount Vernon from the national capital, which, under certain re strictions, shall be free for all travel, is one which commends itself to the sympathy and cordial 20 operation of every American citizen who duly reveres the name and patriotic services of the great soldier and civilian for whom it will be a worthy memorial; and our people, who are interested in a two fold way, bave certainly cause to congratulate themselves that it has been received with so much favor in every part of the republic, whether ten miles or a thousand miles away, and also, that the preliminary organization just now in charge of the important matter is under the direction of a president whose well known business capacities and spirit of enterprise is an assuring guarantee that everything possible will be done by him in The design due time toward establishing it on a successful basis.

The object of the present organization, we take it, is simply to vitalize the project by circulating information through correspondence, by newspaper publications, and by prospecting for the most practicable and may be amply prepared to appeal to Con gress at its next session for its favorable con sideration, and we believe that by that time will have assumed such definite shape that no great difficulty will attend the securing of all needful appropriations.

That the road will be built we have no doubt, and that at no distant day, either through mercenary and speculative motives, or by agencies having their origin in purely patriotic and national considerations, as in the attempt which has already been made. We were assured a few days ago by a percon who seemed to know whereof heaffirmed that it would not be so difficult a matter to ply sufficient to carry out the undertaking as a speculation, but he did not wish to have the road built that way and we thick our the road built mill agree with him in this.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS. Attempt to Wreck the Presidential

Train. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 15 .- When the pilot train preceding the Presidential train arrived at a trestle between Bonnerville and Jonesboro, Ark., yesterday morning, the engineer discovered the trestle to be on fire. He did not make the discovery until it was too late to stop the train before the As soon as possible he backed the train off the trestle and jumped down to examine the fire. He found that a section about ten feet square was in flames and that the fire had been started on the under side of the timbers. The engineer and all the rest of of the trainmen with the help of some of the passengers, succeeded in putting out the fire, when it was discovered that the flames had not eaten dangerously far into the wood and the trestle was still safe for the passage of trains. Had the train been ten minutes later, however, there might have been another Chatsworth horror to chronicle. A News staff correspondent who happened to be on the train made a careful examination of the burned timbers which gave unmistakeable evidence of an attempt at train wrecking. The fire was started on the under side of the cross ties in such a manner that there can be no possible belief that sparks were the cause of it. Then, too, the fire was certainly set to more than one tie with intense enthusiasm. The welcoming address was delivered by Judge H. T. Ellet, and was responded to by the President in a short speech. Judge H. T. Ellet died on the stand before the ceremonies were completed.

MOUNTAIN GROVE, Mo., Oct. 15 .- Great preparations were made here yesterday morning to salute the President's train as it passed through at 7:10 o'clock.
